Cape Saint Elias Lighthouse, Kay-ak Island This lighthouse has been active since 1916 and is one of only 16 lighthouses ever built in Alaska. It has been unmanned for the last 30 years.

ABOUT AAHP The Alaska Association for Historic Preservation (AAHP) was founded in 1981 as a private, nonprofit corporation. AAHP is dedicated to the preservation of Alaska’s prehistoric and historic heritage as manifested in its buildings and sites.

AAHP publishes a quarterly newsletter; holds workshops; assists historic preservation projects across Alaska; monitors and supports legislation to promote historic preservation; and serves as liaison between local, statewide, and national historic preservation groups.

The TEN MOST ENDANGERED HISTORIC PROPERTIES GRANT PROGRAM BEGAN IN 1991 The Ten program funds hands-on preservation efforts on endangered properties and serves as seed money to leverage funding from other sources.

To donate to the Grant Program, or request additional information please contact us at 907.929.9870, akpreservation@gmail.com, or visit our website at www.aahp-online.net 501(c)(3) Tax ID: 92-0085097
Kake Cannery National Historic Landmark, Kake  The cannery was started in 1906 by the Kake Trading & Packing Company. It consists of four large warehouses and a number of smaller support buildings.

Slikok Creek Archaeological District, Soldotna  The archaeological site consists of a dozen cache pits and five prehistoric house pits. This site has been used by Kenai Peninsula College to give students a broader knowledge of the prehistoric Dena’ina people.

Clover Pass School, Ketchikan  This school was built by homesteaders in the Clover Pass area in 1947 for elementary and junior high students.

Locomotive Repair Shop, Juneau  Built in 1916, it is one of only three remaining buildings of the AJ Gold Mine that are owned by the public.

Nike Summit Site, Eagle River  The Site Summit was built between 1957 and 1959 and is one of only two Nike Missile sites in the US to hold live practice firings.

Jesse Lee Home, Seward  Founded in 1923 this home was the orphanage where Benny Benson, Jr., author of the Flag of Alaska, lived. It is also the location of the first raising of our flag.

Historic Soldotna Post Office, Soldotna  This two-room building served as Soldotna’s first post office from 1949 to 1951.

Bureau of Indian Affairs School, Unalakleet  Constructed in the 1930’s, this school was attended by many Unalakleet residents until its closure in the 1980’s.

Government Hill, Anchorage  Built between 1915-1963, this neighborhood is significant as the location of the first residential development in Anchorage and the first urban renewal project in the state.